The protections shall also apply to report facilitators, colleagues of the whistleblower and persons of the same work background who are linked to the whistleblower by a stable emotional or kinship bond within the fourth degree and to entities owned by the whistleblower⁹.

There are also specific protection and support measures for whistleblowers, including by the National Anti-Corruption Authority (ANAC) for the Italian reports; in particular, the whistleblower can benefit from the assistance and advice of third sector entities free of charge and can communicate the retaliation they believe they have suffered to ANAC so that measures are taken¹⁰.
